What is critical illness insurance?

Critical illness insurance pays a lump sum benefit directly to you upon diagnosis of a covered condition. The benefit payment is tax-free, and you can spend it any way you wish. Benefit payments for your children will be paid to you.

OneWorld Assist

Should you choose to use private medical facilities, OneWorld Assist will help you make your money go considerably further than if you personally arrange medical treatment. You can find more information at www.oneworldassist.com/TMS. Note that utilization fees may apply.

AdvanceCare Benefit

The AdvanceCare Benefit will pay 10% of the total benefit amount for Coronary Angioplasty and several early stage cancers. This benefit is not available to dependent children.

Protection for the entire family

Coping with a serious illness is one of the greatest challenges any family can face. Purchasing coverage for your spouse and dependent children gives you peace of mind knowing that you will have some extra financial resources to help your entire family through a difficult time.

You and your spouse can apply for up to $300,000 in coverage. And you can apply for $10,000 in coverage for your children. Children will be protected for the same 25 illnesses as adults plus 6 child-specific conditions:

- Cerebral Palsy
- Down's Syndrome
- Congenital Heart Disease
- Muscular Dystrophy
- Cystic Fibrosis
- Type 1 Diabetes

All your children are protected for one low premium rate, and children born after your initial purchase are automatically covered, without the need for medical underwriting. In order to cover your children under this plan you must also be insured.

Important Questions and Answers

How does critical illness insurance differ from health benefits?

Your existing health benefits pay for medical costs, but there are many other expenses associated with a serious illness that are not covered. Items such as home modifications, childcare or additional household assistance can play an important part in recovery. Critical Illness Insurance pays a lump sum, tax-free benefit on top of your other insurance plans to use any way you wish.

Does critical illness insurance duplicate or replace disability benefits?

No. The two products provide complementary, but different benefits and are important in creating a complete umbrella of insurance coverage. While disability benefits cover a much broader range of disabilities, payments are subject to ongoing review of your medical condition. Critical Illness Insurance pays a lump sum benefit that is not dependent on your ability or inability to work, or whether or not a full recovery is made.

Are there limitations or exclusions I should be aware of?

Yes, there are some important limitations and exclusions for you to be aware of before you apply for coverage:

- The insured person must survive for 30 days (90 days for Paralysis, Loss of Independent Existence or Bacterial Meningitis, 180 days for Multiple Sclerosis or Loss of Speech) after first being diagnosed for a benefit payment to be made.
- If the insured person is diagnosed with a benign brain tumour or cancer within the first 90 days of coverage, coverage will be void and all premiums will be refunded.
- Any Covered Condition or AdvanceCare Benefit Condition diagnosed prior to the effective date of coverage is excluded.
- No benefit will be paid if the Covered Condition or AdvanceCare Benefit Condition results from: attempted suicide, alcohol or drug abuse, war or armed forces service, self-inflicted injury, taking poison or inhaling gas, or participation in a criminal act. For blindness, coma, deafness, loss of limbs, severe burns, paralysis or stroke, no benefit will be paid if the condition is a result of participating in hazardous sports or activities.

What happens to my coverage if I am no longer a member of this group?

Because this is group insurance, you must be an eligible member/employee to join the plan, and to maintain coverage for yourself and your family. However, conversion to a separate policy is available to you and your spouse before age 65, within 31 days of ceasing to be eligible, provided coverage has been in force for at least 24 months. A maximum of $100,000 may be converted.
